Reference is made to your memorandum dated September 30, 1974, HEP:CWB:BA:TJW:jmm, 177-012, requesting electronic surveillance information on captioned individuals.

On the basis of identifying data provided by the Department concerning captioned individuals, a review has been made of appropriate records. They were not the targets of an electronic surveillance nor were any of their conversations monitored by an electronic device of the FBI. Further, this Bureau did not maintain any electronic surveillance on premises which were known to have been owned, leased or licensed by the above individuals.

It is suggested that other Federal investigative agencies be contacted to determine if they had coverage of the subjects.

November 13, 1974

13 / MR. ROSEN: There is one brief matter. This relates 14 to the issue of wire tapping on which the government filed a 15 response, which I received a copy of. That response does not 16 reflect any inquiry, if inquiry was made, to the New York City 17 Police Department, which is something of a concern to us, because, 18 in part, there has been evidence reflecting some involvement of 19 the New York City Police Department in this case. Therefore, I 20 would ask the Court to reserve decision on our motion concerning 21 wire tapping pending some kind of report from the government on 22 inquiries made of the New York City Police Department.

23 THE COURT: The only thing I recall that had anything 24 representing the New York City Police Department, is that they 25 supplied some photographs. There is no indication that they are

1 part of the prosecution of this case. There was a good bit of 2 evidence of cooperation between the Connecticut authorities and 3 the federal authorities, but I'm not aware of any indication that 4 New York is in any sense part of this prosecution other than as 5 a source of photographs.

6 MR. ROSEN: There was some reference to their coopera-7 tion and that I remember their providing photographs as one item 8 of cooperation in the prosecution and in the investigation of the 9 case, and it seems to me under Alderman against the United 10 States, that even that minimal showing may not be necessary, 11 although I think it perhaps is necessary to make some showing 12 because they -- the prosecution cannot be expected to search the 13 records of every law enforcement agency in the world, but 14 where, as here, the New York City Police Department plainly was 15 in contact with investigating authorities, and plainly played 16 some role, it seems to me there is enough of a threshold 17 pass to make inquiry relevant, and under Alderman, the extent 18 of the inquiry ought to be left to defense counsel.

19 MR. WILLIAMS: Some additional facts, as well, your 20 Honor, which support that. I think that the government will not 21 disagree, because we, in fact, have had some informal discussions 22 among counsel for the government and counsel for the defendants 23 with regard to the role of the New York City Police Department, 24 and there is no question that officers from the New York City 25 Police Department participated in the City of New Haven in the 1 actual investigation with regard to this case and, in fact, 2 officers from the New York City Police Department came to New 3 Haven for that specific purpose.

4

5 My rather vague recollection is, indeed, there is 6 reference to that in some of the press clippings which were made 7 exhibits in this case, and that there is further reference to it 8 in some of the Jencks material that was provided to us, but, in 9 any event, I am sure that the government will not contest that.
10 I am sure the government will not contest that we have had 11 discussions in which both Mr. Rosen and I have stated to 12 counsel for the government well in advance of the supplying of 13 this, these written affidavits. the government has given the 14 Court, that we believe that the New York City Police Department 15 was the most probable source of any illegal wire tapping that was 16 going on.

17 They acknowledge that was our position, and obviously 18 without taking their own position on that, acknowledge that we 19 were not completely without factual support for making that 20 claim, and accordingly, it seems to me, there was more than 21 sufficient basis for the government to make that inquiry. . I 22 think that the government, quite frankly, prefers not to make 23 that inquiry for fear of what they may discover.
24

THE COURT: What is the government's view?

MR. CLARK: I am somewhat astounded to hear counsel in 25 this courtroom to say that the government agreed there was a

1 factual basis for their claim that the New York City engaged 2 in wire tapping.

3 MR. WILLIAMS: I don't mean they took the position
4 they had. They acknowledge, I think, that the New York City 5 Police Department has been deeply involved in the investigation 6 of the organization of which our clients are members, and that 7 that is an agency which is certainly a more likely one to contact 8 than the Internal Revenue Service, which apparently they did 9 contact.

10 MR. CLARK: I have no personal knowledge of the extent 11 of the New York City Police Department investigation of the 12 subjects or in the organization to which they may belong. I 13 further think that with respect to inquiry of the New York City 14 Police Department, I don't think that there is even any basis 15 by which we can compel reply from the New York City Police 16 Department. IF we were to send them a letter and ask them to 17 reply to this, I think they could tell us that they won't respond.
18 So I just don't -- this does catch me a bit by surprise, and I 19 don't have case authority, but --

20 THE COURT: Was the New York Police Department the 21 source of any evidence in this case, other than the photographs 22 that were used in the pretrial identification process?

23 MR. CLARK: Not to my knowledge, your Honor. There 24 may have been -- not to my knowledge. Especially, there is no 25 evidence that the government presented that came by way of New

1 York City Police Department. I know that for a fact.

2 3 MR. ROSEN: That, I think, is not the -- it's not the 4 time or the place to make that determination and form in which 5 Mr. Clark is necessarily limited in responding, being as he is 6 the presenter of the evidence, but not the gatherer of the evidence.
7 That response I don't think can dispose of our claim, and I 8 repeat, we are not looking here for wholesale inquiry into any 9 large number of agencies or asking the government to discover 10 agencies and make investigation. We are concerned with one 11 agency, which whether or not in the government's view, certainly 12 in our view, is probably the most likely to be involved in 13 illegal wire tapping of our clients.

14 15 MR. WILLIAMS: I join fully with what Mr. Rosen has 16 said, but I want to say that with respect to the question of 17 whether evidence concerning this case has been gathered by 18 New York City Police Department, that I will represent to this 19 Court as an officer of this Court, that it has been specifically 20 told to me in a personal interview by a uniformed member of the 21 New Haven Police Department that prior to the bank robbery 22 which is the subject of this prosecution within a relatively short 23 time not to exceed about a month, that a teletype was received 24 in the New Haven Police Department from the Connecticut State 25 Police Department, which stated that they had received information from the New York City Police Department that members of the Black Liberation Army were planning to conduct a bank robbery of some kind in some place in southern Connecticut, and there would be a danger of violence involved in connection therewith, and I might say that has further been confirmed to me indirectly by an individual involved with the news media, who informed me that he had received the same information from an anonymous source in the Connecticut State Police Department, and I, therefore, state to your Honor that this is not at all a blind situation, that we are specifically limiting to the New York City Police Department, that there is every reason to believe that the New York City Police Department is second only to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the primary agency involved in the investigation of our clients prior to and subsequent to this particular event, and that, indeed, the New York City Police Department is considered the principal source of law enforcement information in this country on the subject of Black Liberation Army, for rather obvious reasons.

THE COURT: Anything else on this point?

The only thing that's a matter of record is the New York City Police Department was a source of photographs.
Mr. Williams alleges that the New York City Police Department alerted the Connecticut authorities to the possibility that the crime would be committed, somewhere in Connecticut by someone.
I don't see that that ties the New York City Police Department as an investigative agency in this crime.

The crime occurred in Connecticut, it was investigated

1 by Connecticut authorities and federal authorities. The 2 appropriate wire tapping inquiries have been made of Connecticut 3 authorities and federal authorities, and I am going to leave the 4 matter this way, I am not going to require the government to 5 do anything further. If the government makes its own determination 6 that it thinks the record would be better protected by some 7 further response from the New York authorities, they are free 8 to seek such response and supplement the record in that regard, 9 but I am not going to require it.

10 MR. WILLIAMS: Your Honor may be operating under a 11 certain misapprehension. In Mr. Clark's affidavit and attach-12 ment, there is no information that any inquiry has been made of 13 any Connecticut law enforcement agency regarding this. They 14 inquired only of federal agencies.

15 THE COURT: Is that in issue about Connecticut? I 16 thought your claim was directed to New York?

17 MR. WILLIAMS: Our claim was directed to New York, but 18 your Honor was operating under that misapprehension, and it 19 should be brought to your attention.

20 THE COURT: I sort of got the impression here that if 21 no complaint was made about something, it was because something 22 had been done.

23 In any event, this motion is directed to New York 24 authorities, and I have indicated my views of the relationship 25 of New York to the prosecution of this offense, namely: there is 1 absence of that relationship, but if the government wants to 40.

2 supplement the record, they are free to do so.

DEFENDANTS' SUPPLEMENTAL SUBMISSION IN SUPPORT OF MOTION TO SUPPRESS EVIDENCE DERIVED FROM UNLAWFUL ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCE, AND REQUEST FOR HEARING ON MOTION

- 1) The Defendants by their undersigned Counsel moved on September 19, 1974, to suppress all evidence derived from unlawful electronic surveillance and alleged at that time "on information and belief that their conversations have been overheard by means of electronic surveillance as part of a continuing program of federal, state, and local authorities to spy on revolutionaries and political activists."
- 2) Defendants' Motion, while referring to "interceptions by federal, state, and local authorities" referred specifically to two likely sources of unlawful electronic surveillance: the New York City Police Department and the New York State Police.
- 3) The government has made no inquiry of either the New York City Police Department or the New York State Police. The court has, however, given the government leave to supplement the record on this Motion should it desire.

4) The reason given by the court for refusing to order governmental inquiry of the New York City Police Department was that in the court's view the New York City Police Department was not "part of the prosecution" of this case.

5) Defendants represented in open court on November 13, 1974, that they believed the New York City Police Department had played a more active role in the investigation of this case than that indicated by the court.

6) Defendants submit herewith excerpts from the investigative file of the government disclosing certain activities of the New York City Police Department.

7) These excerpts show that the New York City Police Department played an active role in the investigation of this case, and that its members communicated concerning this case with both New Haven and federal authorities investigating the case.

8) In short, like the New Haven Police Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, ^{the} New York City Police Department participated in the investigation of this case.

Defendants therefore renew their request that the government be required to search the records of the New York City Police Department for evidence of electronic surveillance of the Defendants. In the event the New York City Police Department does not willingly cooperate with the government, Defendants request an opportunity for a hearing on their Motion, at which officials from that Department may be summoned to testify.

In S-3-71, at approximately 1310 hours, while this detective and Det. G. Mazzacane were in the Norton St. and Derby Ave. area and monitoring channel one citizen radios, we did hear a broadcast by the dispatcher on both channels indicating from the New Haven Savings Bank, located at 36 Fountain Street; no officers in the area either plain clothes or uniforms to respond. No assigned Doctor of the city to also respond to checkout the silent alarm. I immediately informed Division Base that myself and Det. Mazzacane would respond to that call. One who was operating started heading towards the Westville Sector of the city. Approximately one minute had transpired from the original call, when I received transmitting that he had been hit real bad and to get an ambulance to him. The officer later identified as Officer William Bradley repeated his statement that the suspects had entered a yellow cab and were leaving the scene.

Immediately after officer Bradley ceased his transmission another transmission was made by another officer, later identified as James Baker of the Housing Authority, in pursuit of the yellow cab occupied by the suspects and he broadcasted reporting which direction he was giving pursuit. As each intersecting street was approached and arrived there Det. Mazzacane and myself headed back in the direction of the suspect. Subsequently were advised by radio that the suspects had abandoned the vehicle in the immediate area in the back yards. Det. Mazzacane and myself arrived on Main and Chapel and more specifically at 136 Sherman Ave. which is the main office building across from St. Raphael Hospital Emergency Room and it was noted at the scene that a suspect was in the building and the entire building was surrounded by numerous officers at that location.

In S-3 perimeter of the parking lot of 136 Sherman Ave. is a stockade fence which was scaled by the suspects known to be in the confines of the office building.

Upon observing all exits from 136 Sherman Ave. several shots rang out in back of 136 Sherman Ave. on the southside of the parking lot between the then left my home and drove to the area of Sherman and George where I observed a fire off. I was advised at this time by policemen on the scene that a suspect was hiding at 136 Sherman Avenue and that the Special Weapons Assault Team (SWAT) was holding him at this time.

Then took up a position on the southside of 136 Sherman Ave. and a short time later the suspect had surrendered to police, and was presently under arrest. At this time Chief Inspector Nicholas Pastore who handed me a .38 caliber revolver, type 100, with electrical tape around the butt. This weapon was fully loaded. Inspector Pastore stated this weapon was located in the area of the bank at 36 Fountain Street by the Identification Service and turned over to him.

At this time that a black male subject, later identified as Harold Simmons, was hiding at 136 Sherman Avenue, and turned over to Detective Leonard Pastore, and myself. All three of us then transported Simmons to the Investigative Services Division. He was advised of his Rights and stated, he would only make a statement to the City's Office was notified and Attorneys Mort Lewis and Thomas Corradino came to the Investigative Services Division where they interviewed Simmons in private. I then turned the suspect over to Detective Roy Olson of the Identification Service. When I inspected the revolver he found that both serial numbers were obliterated.

On 5-7-74, while at the Investigative Services Division, I spoke with Detective Odell Cohen of the New York City Police Department, Major Case Squad. He stated, that while I was at the New York City Correctional Center earlier this date, a piece of white paper with writing on it was given to him by Warden Frank Moore. Detective Nichols then turned this paper over to me. In this paper I saw the signature, "Michael Alston," writing indicated such phrases as "The War of Liberation" "On the Run", "Michael Alston is a non-entity", "Rotunda", "Freedom, Freedom" "Arcade." And numerous other figures including a man on the top of a four story building in a prone position looking down at the ground. A piece of white paper with some type of red coloring on same was marked with the date "5-7-74." I then placed this white paper into evidence.

It should be further noted that Detective Matthew Nichols stated, he was told that this piece of white paper was taken from the arrestee Michael Alston while he was in the New York City Correctional Center. See Detective Odell Cohen's follow up investigation to establish the continuity of this particular piece of evidence.

On 5-12-74, I spoke to Sergeant John Maher about the report he turned in on the bullet picked up in his report that Mr. Bean told him the bullet was picked up in the First National Savings Bank, 36 Fountain Street. I advised Sergeant Maher that an

Criminal No. N-74-65

Dear Sir:

Please refer to your letter of January 10, 1975, captioned as above, and the copy of your letter of December 3, 1974.

This will confirm my telephone conversation with Assistant United States Attorney Peter A. Clark, today, during which I informed him of a search made of the Division of State Police files for any record involving the defendants named.
There is no record in the Division files involving any of these subjects and nothing particularly that has any reference to electronic surveillance. I personally review all eavesdropping warrants and I do not know or recall these names. I have caused a search to be made of the file of eavesdropping warrants and applications and find no reference. I have made a search of the Central Files of the Division of State Police at the Headquarters, Albany, and find no reference. I have caused a more particular inquiry to be made in Troop K, Poughkeepsie, which is the State Police Troop bordering Connecticut and the Organized Crime Task Force in White Plains which covers the southern and eastern part of the State and find no reference to the subjects.

If there is any further information that you require, please address your inquiry to me.
